SPECIAL MUSIC PERFORMANCE

"Feeling Good", words and Music

by Leslie Bricusse & Anthony Newley

Featured Singers:

James, Ken, Laura, Stefanie, Steve and Uta

Sam Peters on Keyboard

Hard to imagine anybody who doesn't love this song! Written by Leslie Bricusse and & Anthony Newley for the musical The Roar of the Greasepaint - The Smell of the Crowd, first performed on Broadway in 1965. It was already a joyful anthem about freedom and liberation, but it took Nina Simone to find the essence of the song: Nina and her arranger Hal Mooney brought in a big band and arranged it with swing and a kick. Nina sang it in her inimitable rebel spirit kick-ass style. The song was released in the midst of the Civil Rights protests. Celebrate being alive every day, every moment! The moment is all we ever have.
